SATURDAY October 6, 2018

An Antarctic Adventure 7pm

Photographer and filmmaker Peter Cavanagh presents a photographic cameo of a voyage along the Scotia Arc to Antarctica. Recent changes in climate and krill harvesting raise the question of how long we will be able to enjoy this vast polar desert .

$10 Suggested Donation

Location: Lopez Center, 204 Village Rd.

SUNDAY October 7, 2018

Blessing of the Animals 10am

In honor of St Francis of Assisi's feast day we will once again celebrate the bonds we share with our animal companions in a simple service.

All are welcome — two legged and four! Species appropriate refreshments after the service.

Join us for this wonderful annual happening!

Location: Grace Church, 70 Sunset Lane

TUESDAY October 9, 2018

Water Scarcity in an Insecure World 7pm

In this talk, participants learn about water scarcity and its effects both globally and at local levels here in Washington State. Participants are challenged to consider how they value water in its different uses, and explore whether taking an ethical approach to water issues changes how we manage and govern water on our increasingly thirsty, crowded planet.

Part of the HUMAN/NATURE library speaker series, hosted by the library through this fall and winter. See our calendar for future events.

Location: Lopez Center, 204 Village Rd.

TUESDAY October 9, 2018

Community Rights Orientation Meeting 7pm

After a wildly fun Take Back the Salish Sea Dance introducing Community Rights San Juan Islands (CRSJI), Tuesday's orientation will get into the heart of Community Rights; what it is, why its needed, who's already involved and what we're doing.

Join us for an informative look at HOW we create the necessary changes that will protect our natural environment, our home and our future. Come learn about the Rights of Nature and the activities of CRSJI

The Washington Razor Clam Phenomenon 7pm

What brings thousands of men, women, and children to Washington's sandy coastal beaches every year, braving weather and surf? The buried treasure known as the Pacific razor clam.

Hunting and gathering these creatures has preoccupied Northwesterners from the time of the Native peoples to the present moment. Challenging to dig, delicious to eat, and providing a sometimes heady experience of abundance, razor clams are entwined with the state's commerce, identity, and history. Join author and clam digger David Berger to explore the twists and turns of a quintessential Northwest activity from its pre-settlement days to the present.
